Threads of Time Vol. 1

High school kendo champion Moon Bin Kim suffers from a recurring nightmare in which he lives as Sa Kyung Kim, the son of a prominent warrior family in 13th Century Korea (Koryo). After a freak accident, Moon Bin falls into a coma, but his modern-day personality resurfaces in the distant past as Sa Kyung revives miraculously after years of unconsciousness. As if being displaced in medieval Koryo wasn't enough, Moon Bin finds the country at the brink of war. Sali Toyi, the most brutal and feared general of the Mongol army, leads the invasion. Opposing him is Moon Bin's 13th Century father, the legendary warlord Kim Kyung-Sohn.

Threads of Time Vol. 2

General Sohn learns that Genghis Khan's granddaughter, Atan Hadas, is gathering intelligence in Koryo and orders her arrest. Unaware that she is a princess and an enemy spy, the impetuous Moon Bin helps her escape capture. Returning to Sali Toyi, Atan Hadas learns that a full-scale invasion of Koryo has begun.

Threads of Time Vol. 3

In an all-out assault, the Mongol army cuts a bloody swath toward Chu Zhu Palace, the stronghold of Koryo's defense. General Sali Toyi demands Koryo's surrender, but despite facing overwhelming enemy forces, the Koryo palace weathers the Mongol siege. Kim Kyung-Sohn stands against Sali Toyi in personal combat, keeping the hopes of a successful resistance alive.

Threads of Time Vol. 4

Infuriated by Koryo's resistance, Sali Toyi orders the rape and massacre of Kim Kyung-Sohn's household. Disturbed by the brutality of her fellow soldiers and seeking to repay Moon-Bin's kindness, Atan Hadas warns Moon Bin to save himself. Unable to abandon his 13th Century family, Moon Bin returns home to find everything destroyed...

Threads of Time Vol. 5

Moon Bin dresses as a woman to avoid the murderous clutches of the Mongols. Meanwhile, the Koryo ruler surrenders to the Mongol hordes, much to the shock of General Kim Kyung-Sohn, who fought fiercely for his country only to be betrayed by its leaders.

Threads of Time Vol. 6

With the death of General Kim Kyung-Sohn, the last Koryo credible resistance to the Mongol army falls. Moon Bin is captured and placed in the Slave Corps. Koryo citizens who will be trained as Mongol soldiers to fight their own on the battlefield.

Threads of Time Vol.7

Haunted by the vision of his dead warrior father, Moon Bin awakens in the slave camp with a compulsion to avenge his family's murder. He becomes a cold and fierce warrior and gains the notice of his Mongol commanders who push him up the ranks. Meanwhile, Sali Toyi decides he wishes to marry Atan Hadas.

Threads of Time Vol 8

Sali Toyi reminisces about his childhood with Atan Hadas, and how much he loves her now. Meanwhile, Moon Bin comes to believe that retrieving his sword will be the key to returning to his own century. Moon Bin learns that Sali Toyi now possesses the sword—and is betrothed to Atan Hadas.

Threads of Time Vol.9

Unwilling to fight against his countrymen, Moon Bin deserts the Mongol army camp, but is attacked by Sali Toyi. During the fight, Sali Toyi is shocked to discover that Moon Bin is Kim Kyung-Sohn's son. Though defeated by Sali Toyi, Atan Hadas helps Moon Bin escape. During his recovery, Moon Bin resolves to follow his course to its end.

Threads of Time

Once again in command of men, civilian militiamen as they are, Moon-Bin demonstrates deft leadership in driving away Mongol soldiers. However, his popularity is growing and one of the fleeing soldiers recognizes him. It isn't long before Sali Tayi hears of the re-emergence of the man who has now become his most hated foe. And that hatred may doom any man who decides to follow the young, lonely, time-traveling hero.
